A new integrative approach to mental & physical health

"Care for the mind; improving the body"

WELCOME TO OUR PREMIERE NEWSLETTER

Dear Friends,

I'm writing to you today to share some very exciting news regarding the Mind-Body Healing Center. In our quest to become your community resource for Mind-Body Medicine in the greater Los Angeles area, we have some positive plans in the works immediately and in the near future that you're going to love.

First off, we're announcing the relaunch of our newly revamped website at a brand new address. Please make note of our new "home"... it's www.mindbody.la – an address fitting of our new direction. We'd love for you to take a look at our new site and even refer us to your friends. Simply click on the "Refer Us" link on top.

Secondly, I would like to request of anyone who feels comfortable providing me with a testimonial of your experience and good results with the Mind-Body Healing Center. It will be placed on our website to help others in learning more about our community and our work. Please send it to me at info@mindbody.la and be sure and tell me whether you want your full name or just your initials used. Thank you in advance for sharing your experiences.
